

Dear Dr. Mark Miravalle,

I, the undersigned, unconditionally endorses the Vox Populi Movement and soon to be published third volume entitled Mary, Coredemptrix, Mediatrix of All Graces, and Advocate Theological Foundations III: Popular Thought on a Fifth Marian Dogma.

Nothing is impossible for God our Abba. Through the power of the Holy Spirit, He predestined a consenting Jewish Maiden to give birth to Jesus, His only begotten Son. The Immaculate Virgin Mary nurtured Her child to adulthood with the loving assistance of St. Joseph her faithful spouse.

Since the beginning of time, no woman can be compared to the sinless Mary in her humility and indescribable suffering during her Son's passion and death. No wonder She was assumed into heaven body and soul and crowned Queen.

As Mother of the Church and all humankind, She has appeared many times to Her children, especially in these latter times, with the message to love Jesus, His Church, and all humanity. The Holy Father, Pope John Paul II, faithfully lives his motto "Totus Tuus" and is a staunch believer in the last dogma. He will be guided by the Holy Spirit as to when to define it. That may be a part of the New Evangelization 2000.

To climax all this, there is concern that ecumenism may be damaged if the last dogma is defined. Our Lady of All Nations definitely knows of this possibility. Yet, in the year of 1945, at Amsterdam, she revealed to the seer, Ida Peerdeman, the urgent need of the proclamation of the last dogma in order to hasten the Triumph of the Sacred Heart of her Son and her Immaculate Heart. The day will definitely come when there will be one shepherd and one flock.

Let's support our Mama's wisdom!

With love in Jesus and Mary,

Bishop Nicholas D'Antonio, O.F.M.
